2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

Chair's Report

Our job as the Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice (VFCYJ) Committee is to be aware of the circumstances for youth and families who may come into contact with the justice system. We represent the community for government - municipal, provincial and federal.

2016 began with a presentation on Secure Care – looking at the benefits and drawbacks to denying youth's rights in order to treat addictions - without doubt, the most controversial discussion this committee considered. Those who face the terrible realities of addiction and suicide were clearly affected and we continue to examine models from other parts of Canada, including Alberta, where residential care facilities exist.

We heard about services available at Ledger House (supporting youth mental health) and the challenges that exist where resources are tied to specific needs and may even be untapped due to specific criteria for their use not being met. British Columbia continues to be a leader in youth mental health policy, although resources continue to be in short supply. The BC School Centred Youth Mental Health Committee has been promoting mental wellness initiatives that include public schools, post-secondary institutions, community and public health professionals.

Towards the end of 2016 we approved funding for the Balancing Our Minds Youth Mental Health Summit. Previously a Vancouver Event, they have decentralized to five smaller summits around the Province (one being Vancouver Island) and as a result, a collaboration of all 4 local school districts, local agencies and non-profit organizations and individuals has agreed to work collaboratively to bring this summit to the Greater Victoria area. Geared towards destigmatizing mental health and empowering youth, a one day awareness building event will be held in the CRD in 2017. Committee members can volunteer to assist.

We had a presentation from 'Rainbows' Nanaimo, a volunteer agency focused on helping children and families with grief issues. Resources are available where a core committed group has ensured that they exist, and Nanaimo's group is willing to help other areas get started. We also had presentations from service agencies providing professional services in Victoria including Communica and 1-Up Single Parent Resource Centre. Pacific Centre Family Services Association has been a regular contributor to our committee. Together, all offer an array of services on a fee for service basis, a sliding fee scale based on the ability of the family to pay, or even free where these services have been sponsored by government. Where possible, I have included information each agency shared with the committee (immediately following the speaker listing).

With CORE funding cuts, it remains a challenge to maintain an index of available services. Crisis Line <http://www.vicrisis.ca/> is the best link. You do not have to be in critical need to call. The 24-hour Vancouver Island Crisis Line is an Island Health contracted service and can direct children and families to services available in their community. There do exist committed professional and volunteer groups who offer a variety of programs. Children or families may need extra assistance from their municipal representatives to find appropriate programs.

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

The committee closely follows reports from the BC Children's Representative www.rcybc.ca. 2016 saw Mary Ellen Turpel Lafond's tenure come to an end – our first Representative for Children and Youth, a position with parliamentary standing to report out directly to the Legislative Assembly. Our hope is that the next Representative for Children and Youth will be able to help government choose to service Families and Children better. Our service agencies consistently report the need for CORE SERVICE FUNDING and special project funding, while helpful, still needs a system of services to augment.

The VFCYJ Committee continued to lobby to retain youth services and containment facilities here on Vancouver Island, with full support from all 13 municipalities, and 4 school districts. Despite the province's insistence that the Youth Containment Facility must close for financial reasons, the facility continued to remain open, although local youth were sent to mainland facilities. News Reports documented increased tensions and a riot at the Burnaby Youth Detention Centre:

July 20th Global News

"It was a hectic night for guards at the Burnaby Youth Detention Centre after seven male young offenders, all between the ages of 15 and 17, started a riot. The facility suffered extensive damage. One unit was damaged first, then the group moved to a supervisor's station and a second unit. They also damaged the sprinkler system in the second unit and started a fire, which some young offenders had to put out There were no injuries to residents, staff or police and the youth were contained within the centre at all times. "All youth are safe and accounted for." Andrew Cronkhite, director of programs for the Burnaby Youth Secure Custody Centre, said the main factor behind the riot appeared to be have a room search that resulted in a loss of privileges earlier in the day."

"The Youth Centre does not have its own Emergency Response Team so it had to wait for Burnaby RCMP to collect resources. Staff have expressed concern about increasing levels of violence since the Victoria Youth Detention Unit was shut down and those young offenders were moved to Burnaby."

July 20th Burnaby Now.com:

"... in a statement released by the Ministry of Children and Family Development. "Further suggestion that the closure of the Victoria Youth Custody Centre is somehow linked to this incident is misleading, given the fact that the youths who were involved in this incident are from the Lower Mainland and the Interior and would not have been housed on Vancouver Island," - See more at: <http://www.burnabynow.com/news/update-prison-riot-a-result-of-gang-ties-says-union-1.2306112#sthash.cifokoJb.dpuf>

The Crime Reduction Education Division (CRED), of Pacific Centre Family Services, works with youth exiting gangs throughout the CRD. CRED applies annually for civil forfeiture funds, which leaves this service vulnerable without secure ongoing funding. CRED works collaboratively with the Mobile Youth Services Team at least once a week, attuned to gang and sexual exploitation. Gangs and Drugs were the subject of a Forum at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities (UBCM) Annual Convention and it emphasized the spread of Gangs throughout BC and the lack of good outcomes for families and gang members, even when they want to get out.

We know from Data gathered from South Island School Districts that protective factors for youth include friends, relationships and community connections. The Mobile Youth Services Team's (MYST) mandate is to help prevent the sexual exploitation of youth. This mandate has expanded over the years and includes working with and supporting the high risk youth in the Capital Region. Most are girls who are drug addicted and chronically go missing from their place of residence. Unfortunately home for most of these kids are primarily foster homes, group homes etc. Youth continue to be highly mobile within the Capital Region and resources that cross all boundaries like MYST and CRED are helpful to them. Consistently available services are in short supply and with many agencies losing funding, closing or reducing services, it is hard to keep track of available services within the CRD.

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

For many youth the one consistent community connection is the Mobile Youth Services Worker. Concerns have been raised this year that Cst. Jennifer Gibbs may be moved out of that position, leaving the youth who have come to depend on that relationship vulnerable. Having served on this committee since 2003, I have seen four MYST worker changes and can attest to the great loss to the community during these transitions.

Each Spring, CRATSEY brings Taking Care of Ourselves: Taking Care of Others, (TCO²) an interactive theatre style presentation put on by The Children of the Street Society, to local middle and high schools to help inform youth. Presentations are based on the real life experiences of youth who have worked with the Society and this helps to provide tools to prevent exploitation. Bookings are coordinated through the Mobile Youth Services Team (Jgibbs@oakbaypolice.org) and presentations in 2017 will be February 20 – 24. Joel Conway, Fortress Foundation, made the committee aware of the film Over 18: A Documentary About Pornography. The committee wrote a letter of support for the Federal Motion M-47 and encouraged our municipal partners to do the same, which read: “That the Standing Committee on Health be instructed to examine the public health effects of the ease of access and viewing of online violent and degrading sexually explicit material on children, women and men, recognizing and respecting the provincial and territorial jurisdictions in this regard, and that the said Committee report its findings to the House no later than July 2017.” Widespread availability of pornography (not your father’s playboy magazines) is impacting youth and families as depicted in the film by Hope for the Sold. In spite of the ongoing funding challenges, RJ Victoria has persisted - in no small part because of its highly trained, dedicated volunteers and skilled leadership. RJ Victoria continues to work with all levels of government to support their initiatives and recognizes our collective desire to make the world a better place. Going beyond the many programs they offer, RJ Victoria has helped local governments to understand the impacts of restorative justice support - to police, crown counsel, and local families who want to have the best outcome possible after a conflict. Despite saving money for the provincial government, the province continues to consider funding for RJ to be a ‘community’ (municipal) responsibility. Efforts have been made to preserve funding through awareness building. In November, RJ Victoria was awarded the inaugural Restorative Justice Memorial Award. A report from Geanine Robey, RJ Liaison is included in this report.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

VICTORIA, B.C. - October 20th, 2016--

Canadian Doc Seeks to talk about Kids and Porn

On November 12th 2016 at 6:30pm, the Victoria based non-profit FORTRESS Foundation will be hosting a public screening of Over 18, a documentary about pornography produced by Canadian charity, Hope for the Sold. The film tackles an issue that many people would rather ignore; the effects of pornography on children and youth. It follows the true story of a boy who became addicted to pornography at the age of nine while playing on his computer in his family's living room. The film has several interviews with experts from around the world as well as people who are still active in the porn industry today. In a recent interview with CBC, Jared Brock, founder of Hope for the Sold and the film's director said, "Ninety per cent of boys under the age of 18 have looked at porn and 60 per cent of girls... The stuff that they're accessing isn't the Playboy that the previous generation saw – breasts in a magazine. It's body-punishing sex." The way relationships and intimacy are depicted across the porn industry is not healthy, with the majority of porn framing abuse of women as erotic.

The statistics are truly staggering. 9 of 10 boys view pornography, with the average age of exposure being just 12 years old. But it's not just a male issue - 60% of girls having seen porn by age 18, and 57% of girls and 83% of boys have seen group sex online. Jared and his wife, Michelle, are taking the film on tour across Canada, doing in-person screenings from Montreal to Victoria in order to raise awareness of this important issue. To find out more about the documentary and the work of Hope for the Sold you can visit over18doc.com.

Restorative Justice Victoria honoured by Ministry of Public Safety & Solicitor General

By Geanine Robey, Restorative Justice Liaison

In November 2016, Restorative Justice Victoria was honoured by the Ministry of Public Safety and Solicitor General with its inaugural Restorative Justice Memorial Award. RJV was recognized for its commitment to innovative partnerships that have advanced the work of restorative justice and brought caring and respective service to victims, offenders and their communities. Through eleven years of action, research and program development, RJV has built a program that now has four staff and over 100 volunteers that service the City of Victoria and Esquimalt and Oak Bay municipalities. Through educating citizens; building partnerships with police, Crown, and community; training facilitators and mentors; and developing evaluation measures for use at each step in the RJ process, RJV has earned its reputation as a model program in BC. despite a persistent lack of stable funding and increasing referrals.

Etta Connor (Peninsula Crossroads Community Justice Program, award nominator), Alyne Mochan (RJV Chair),

Sgt. Todd Wellman (RJV volunteer),

Hon. Mike Morris (Minister Public Safety &

Solicitor General),

Gillian Lindquist (RJV Executive Director)

Helping the community to better understand crime victims' needs, RJV hosted symposia honouring National Victims of Crime Week (2014 – 2016). Informed in part by these events, it became apparent that to better address the needs of victims and ensure both improved access to services and their improved overall quality not only in Victoria but across B.C., better communication, collaboration and formal working partnerships between Police Based Victim Services (PBVS) and Restorative Justice programs was needed. To that end, RJV, with Civil Forfeiture funding from the Ministry of Public Safety and Solicitor General, undertook to research and publish the Restorative Justice-Victim Services Partnership Guide. The guide included numerous recommendations, tools and initiatives for building and/or strengthening relationships between PBVS and RJ programs and, enhancing victim-centred services. It was published in 2016 and made available on-line across the province.

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

Another key contribution made by RJV and completed in 2016, was in collaborating with project partners, community agencies and practitioners across BC toward the development of shared practice standards for restorative justice. Funding for this work was secured through the provincial Ministry of Justice by a provincial working group, including RJV's Gillian Lindquist and Shanna Grant-Warmald, to explore victim-sensitive standards in restorative justice.

The aim of the working group was to help pave the way for strengthened relationships between restorative justice and its participants; as well as with victim service providers and other referral sources and stakeholders. As has been reported to the VFCYJC in previous years, numerous BC government reports have called for greater use of restorative justice while also pointing to the need for provincial standards, performance measures and, reporting and evaluation to assure quality and control across BC.

The resulting report on RJ practice standard represents an attempt to meet the minimum conditions of human rights as articulated by the United Nations and legalities that pertain to assisting people who have been involved in a criminal harm. Adoption of these standards is at this point, voluntary but nevertheless, essential to establishing and maintaining a high-quality program that can demonstrate as RJV does, its effectiveness and its ethics to participants, community stakeholders and funders.

Congratulations to Restorative Justice Victoria for being a provincial leader in the field of restorative justice.

Court Watch Sub-Committee Annual Update 2016

In the spring of 2016, the chair of CASA, Court Appointed Special Advocates for Children unfortunately had to wind down the not for profit due to funding shortages. It was approved that the chair would take over the court watch sub-committee as it had been relatively inactive for a period of time. Committee members were able to attend sessions Thursday afternoon's at the downtown court, to witness first appearances for parents whose children had become involved with the Ministry of Children and Families. Opportunities to debrief the court process, meet with some counsel, and report back to the larger committee on issues and concerns that they personally viewed, was instructive. The chair would also bring highlights of what was happening in the court system on other issues relevant to the mandate of this committee.

In the fall, the chair, as a result of her involvement with the Indigenous Perspectives Society, took the opportunity to visit the First Nations Court in Duncan on two separate occasions, again bringing interested parties up with her. Provincial Court Judge Garth Smith, a Metis, was more than gracious in accommodating our presence, as were the participants in the court process. To say that the impact felt by those of us unfamiliar with this specific approach, was profound, would not be stretching the truth. The court was supported by elders, native court workers, ceremonial and cultural traditions. Honest endeavours of healing were roundly supported, the strength to overcome adversity was palpable, feel good moments were frequent. In the interests of access to justice, the chair has sought to broaden the referral base to include those eligible First Nations offenders from the CRD catchment. She has written to the Criminal Justice Branch managers, as they currently are the gatekeepers for file referral to a First Nations Court, to encourage Crown in the CRD catchment to flag appropriate files for referral. The Judge confirmed that other First Nations Courts throughout the province take in referrals and the Duncan First Nations Court has the capacity to accept more cases. She has also been working with the defense bar to make them aware of this opportunity and encourage them to raise the issue as well.

Of particular note, the Victoria family court does not have any Native Court workers available to assist families in either child protection proceedings or family cases. To that end, the Chair has been discussing what options might exist within the existing First Nations serving agencies to assist in this area until a fully funded position is made available. Discussions are ongoing.

The Chair is also a member of a local initiative of lawyers who act for parents in child protection proceedings. There is grave concern about the lack of checks and balances within the Child, Family and Community Services Act, lack of adherence to policy amongst many other issues. This group prepared a working document, entitled, "A Call to Action" which has been widely distributed amongst the legal profession. The group continues to advocate for law reform in the area and has taken the opportunity to meet with members of the Opposition to advocate for reforms. The initiative has broadened its base of membership to include researchers and First Nations who share many of the same concerns. This is a work in progress, with future meetings scheduled.

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

2016 Priorities Committee Annual Report

Committee: The Priorities Committee (Committee) consists of the VFCYJC Chair, Vice-Chair, Treasurer, and one or two members appointed by the Chair. The Committee reviews applications received for extraordinary funding and grants to other agencies. Members of the Committee include: Priorities Chair Ron Mattson (VFCYJC Vice-Chair), Cynthia Day (VFCYJC Chair), Bill McElroy (VFCYJC Treasurer), Marcie McLean and, as of October 2016, Matt Sahlstrom.

Committee Mandate: The Committee's goals are outlined in the Priorities Purpose document. It represents the belief of the Committee that simply observing the circumstances for youth is not enough, members of the committee want to manage our scarce resources to maximize our knowledge and investigate options that could possibly make a difference for youth and their families so that we can make informed recommendations to local, provincial and federal governments. In 2017 the Committee will review its mandate to consider expanding its grants criteria (begun in 2016).

Application Process: The Committee works to ensure that when a grant request comes forward to the committee, all the necessary information is in place to allow for an informed decision. The application is reviewed via email and a recommendation (with additional information if needed) is brought to the main committee for a decision, usually through a formal report.

2016 Applications: As of October, 2016, the Committee has approved four applications and has two applications under review. Applications for funding assistance approved in 2016 include:

1. Mitzi Dean, Youth Matters Committee– requested a $2,000 grant to enable 8 non profit organisations serving youth to attend TeenFest. (Booths at the event cost $500 each which is a barrier to some agencies). (approved)
2. Mary's Farm Society – requested a $3500 grant for the Registration fee for one female participant in year long therapeutic program: "Sister Herd" ($350 x 10 months). (approved)
3. Victoria Child Abuse Prevention & Counselling Centre and Victoria Sexual Assault Centre – applied for a $2000 grant 2,000 in funding for the purchase of furnishings and decorative materials for the reception/waiting areas of the Victoria Community Response Centre. (approved)
4. Capital Region Action Team (CRAT) –request for $500 to hold a Special TCO2 (Taking Care of Ourselves, Taking Care of Others) Presentation – addressing Sexual Exploitation/Human Trafficking (approved). These applications follow; please note that not all applications receive the full amount requested, amounts are as detailed in the treasurer's report.

Applications under review as of October 2016 include: Cornerstone Youth Society, Darin Reimer (Executive Director); and Communica: Dialogue and Resolution Services for the Youth Reconnection Dialogue Outreach and Promotion Project.

1. Date of Application: May 2016
2. Name of organization / person(s) applying: Mitzi Dean, Youth matters committee
3. Background of organization / person(s) or applicable history of related projects:

The youth matters committee has coordinated events across the region over the past 10 years to ensure that youth and youth focused agencies have access to up to date knowledge about services and options for youth in the region.

4. Clear goals and objectives of the project – clear indications of relevance to the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee mandate:

The objectives of TeenFest are to engage youth and share knowledge with them about services and opportunities across the region. While this includes businesses it also includes non profits and healthy activities. All promoters offer interactive engagement with the youth on the day and the event is non stigmatised so that youth gather information on critical as well as trivial matters. The FCYJC has asked the youth matters committee to consider reconvening a regional youth conference and the proposal is to achieve this in partnership with Teen Fest.

It is proposed that the Family Court Youth Justice Committee commit up to $2000 to enable 8 non profit organisations serving youth to attend the event. Booths at the event cost $500 each which is a barrier to some agencies. TeenFest will partner with the Committee and match the funding to enable up to 8 non profit organisations to attend for a cost of $2000 to the committee.

5. Any features of the project you believe are pertinent to this application: Will the project dovetail with other similar work? (ie. In the Greater Victoria area or within your organization).

This dovetails with the work of the FCYJC and priorities of ensuring that up to date information is accessible to and shared with youth in the region. Working in partnership and ensuring that up to date information about services for youth is available are key success criteria for the Committee as well as other youth serving networks and collaborative groups across Victoria.

7. Other funding avenues/partners being explored:

TeenFest already secures sponsorship to make the event free for youth and families and they are offering to match funding for non profit organisations supported by this proposal.

8. Catchment area served – target population: Capital Regional District.

9. Needs/problems to be addressed through the project work:

Ensure youth and families have up to date information of the range of healthy activities, services and interests that can be found and pursued in the region.

10. Deliverables (goods and services to be provided):

interactive, engaging information booths and a goody bag from key information booths.

11. Timeframes (eg. Intended start date of project, length of time from start of project to deliverables, one time project or on-going?): The event takes place on November 5th 2016.

1. Date of Application: September 2016
2. Name of organization / person(s) applying: Mary's Farm Society
3. Background of organization / person(s) or applicable history of related projects:

Mary's Farm and Sanctuary is a safe and tranquil setting for all people to learn, grow and heal. With 30 acres of pristine pasture, gardens, and forest paths, the land is home to plentiful farm animals, wildlife and a few dedicated staff. In the spirit of respecting and nourishing the web of life, fostering dynamic relationships between our animals, guests, and the land underlies all that we offer.

4. Clear goals and objectives of the project – clear indications of relevance to the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee mandate:

We would like to ask the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee to sponsor the program fee (or portion thereof) for one participant in our “Sister Herd” program. This is a small group program for female youth ages 13-17 that are experiencing social anxiety, depression or isolation and may or may not be currently attending school. The girls will spend Mondays from 10 – 3 immersed in the beauty of nature, animals, art, and mindful being at Mary's Farm and Sanctuary. A strong emphasis is placed on creating a safe, positive and supportive environment for each girl to thrive.

The FCYJC is aware of the challenges teenage girls are experiencing in high school. As a result they are experiencing severe social anxiety and not willing to leave their homes. The safety of the Sanctuary and unconditional love and acceptance of the animals helps these girls to overcome their anxiety.

5. Any features of the project you believe are pertinent to this application: Will the project dovetail with other similar work? (ie. In the Greater Victoria area or within your organization).

To our knowledge this is a unique and much needed program. The only limitation is that we have to operate on a fee for service basis at this time which limits families' access. Our goal as a not for profit is to help make Mary's Farm programs accessible to all.

Total		$3500.00

7. Other funding avenues/partners being explored: We are exploring partnership possibilities with The Center for Earth and Spirit. This organization already has charitable status which we do not as of yet.
8. Catchment area served – target population: Victoria and surrounding areas.
9. Needs/problems to be addressed through the project work: Teenage anxiety, depression and social isolation can lead to suicide.
10. Deliverables (goods and services to be provided): one female youth (perhaps FCYJC has a youth in mind?) will receive immediate access to our year long "Sister Herd" program. If FCYJC cannot fund the entire registration fee, Mary's Farm Society will sponsor the remainder.
11. Timeframes (eg. Intended start date of project, length of time from start of project to deliverables, one time project or on-going?) The start date is September 19 and runs Mondays 10-3 for the school year. Late registrations will be accepted until capacity (8) is reached. The program can be expanded to a second day if needed.
12. Evaluation framework: This program is evaluated by the facilitators after each day. Feedback is received from the participants and their families regularly. A program evaluation is completed at the end. Here is a testimony from a parent:

"The calm and attention you devote to the girls is what has allowed our daughter the space to want to open up and spread her wings at the farm. I can see how the confidence she has gained in your safe environment has allowed her to risk taking more chances in other areas of her life too. I cannot emphasize enough that the freedom and voice you give the girls, that is so lacking in most opportunities for girls that age, is such a precious gift to them. What you do at the farm is nothing short of miraculous and our family is so appreciative of your relationship and investment in our daughter. "

1. Name of organization / person(s) applying: CRAT (Capital Region Action Team for Sexually Exploited Youth)
2. Background of organization / person(s) or applicable history of related projects:
CRAT was formed in 1998 in response to increasing numbers of youth selling sex on Victoria's streets. Since then we have worked to raise awareness and to educate youth and youth workers about this issue. We do this mainly by bringing over TCO2 (Taking Care of Ourselves, Taking Care of Others) from Vancouver once a year and putting on a workshop/symposium about sexual exploitation/human trafficking every 18 months or so. CRAT is part of the Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Committee.
3. Clear goals and objectives of the project – clear indications of relevance to the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee mandate:

To allow TCO2 to put on 3 special presentations:

February 25, 2016: to have a public presentation at the new Royal Bay Secondary Theatre. This would be an evening presentation to allow parents, teachers, school principals, Trustees, local government officials, students, RCMP, etc. An opportunity to see the tco2 presentation outside of school hours.

April 17, 2016: To have tco2 make a Sunday afternoon presentation on Salt Spring Island, in conjunction with presentations by the Mobile Youth Support Team (MYST) coordinator, Capital Region Education Division (CRED) coordinator and Capital Region Action Team (CRAT) Chair.

April 25, 2016: To have tco2 make an afternoon presentation in the Saanich Peninsula for local governments, RCMP, SD63 Trustees and staff, principals, counsellors, First Nations leaders, etc. This will provide an opportunity for them to see the value of having tco2 make presentations to schools and venues in the Saanich Peninsula.

4. Any features of the project you believe are pertinent to this application:

This request will provide funding to cover costs in having these special presentations, such as theatre rental, travel costs, meals, parking and incentives for attending the presentations.

5. Will the project dovetail with other similar work? (ie. In the Greater Victoria area or within your organization). Yes, Mobile Youth Support Team (MYST), Pacific Centre Family Services, Children of the Street Society, Salt Spring Secondary, Royal Bay Secondary, Town of Sidney, Mary Winspear Centre, etc.

9. Needs/problems to be addressed through the project work:

Sexual Exploitation on the internet is a growing concern. Human Trafficking in the Greater Victoria area is growing. Most of this activity is hidden from public view. We need to raise the awareness of those who work with youth so that they can identify these issues and provide the necessary supports.

3. Background of organization / person(s) or applicable history of related projects:

The Victoria Community Response Centre (VCRC) is a Ministry of Justice initiative and a collaborative project of the Victoria Child Abuse Prevention & Counselling Centre, the Victoria Sexual Assault Centre, and other multi-disciplinary teams serving survivors of child abuse in all its forms and of sexual assault aged 13 and up. With a grand opening scheduled for February 17, 2016, VCRC will house two ground breaking programs that enhance services for survivors of such violence: Child Advocacy Centre and Victoria Sexual Assault Clinic. First of its kind in British Columbia, the new and innovative model will shift key services and supports for clients from the hospital and police stations to one central location - VCRC. Two lead agencies for the multi-disciplinary case management project, VCAPCC and VSAC, will work together alongside Island Health, local police and RCMP, and various community partners to provide a one-stop trauma-informed service for survivors of child abuse and sexual assault in a non-institutional venue.

The following outlines background of the two lead organizations and their related experiences:

Victoria Child Abuse Prevention & Counselling Centre (VCAPCC)

VCAPCC is the only non-profit agency dedicated to treating child and youth victims of sexual, physical and emotional abuse in the Greater Victoria area. Early intervention and support for families affected by abuse can reduce its long-term effects.

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

Every year VCAPCC delivers accredited services to more than 300 children and non-offending family members. Staff works with families, schools, police and professionals to ensure a coordinated, holistic approach to supporting children, youth and families. Services are accessible and the clinical team consists of child and family therapists with Master's level credentials. A continuum of services is provided at every stage of healing from crisis management, hospital accompaniment, counseling, court preparation and post-court follow up. VCAPCC also provides resources to Victims Assistance Programs (VAP) on Vancouver Island and Sexual Abuse Intervention Programs (SAIP) in British Columbia.

Some of recent achievements include a 2011 Service Excellence Award from the BC's Representative of Children & Youth and a 2014 BC Crime Prevention and Community Safety Award for a Community Organization. Most recently, VCAPCC received a three-year Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) accreditation again for a resurvey conducted in December 2015 with an exemplary conformance for collaboration with community partners.

Education and prevention is at the center of our philosophy. VCAPCC makes every effort to educate and engage the youth in the community and is a proud recipient of funding from Youth Philanthropy Initiative (YPI) over the past years.

•Victoria Sexual Assault Centre (VSAC)

VSAC is a feminist organization committed to ending sexualized violence through healing, education, and prevention. Dedicated to supporting women and all trans survivors of sexual assault and childhood sexual abuse, through advocacy, counselling, and empowerment, VSAC is a leader in sexual assault response and is uniquely positioned as the only community-based sexual assault centre in Greater Victoria serving teenage girls and women, and the majority (75%) were between the ages of 13-30. Each year VSAC responds to on average 80 sexual assaults and has over 800 Victim Service Program client contacts.

The Sexual Assault Response Team (SART), a collaborative response between VSAC, Forensic Nurse Examiners, Island Health, RCMP and the police, provides immediate emotional support and information to people of all genders, 13 years and older, who have been sexually assaulted within the past 7 days. Upon request by survivor, SART also facilitates accompaniment to hospital and medical and police involvement.

Other programs and services available at VSAC include the 24-hour crisis & information line, Victim Services, prevention, counselling, and community outreach.

4. Clear goals and objectives of the project – clear indications of relevance to the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee mandate

We request $ 2,000 in funding for the purchase of furnishings and decorative materials for the reception/waiting areas of the Victoria Community Response Centre. Recent survivors of child abuse and sexualized violence experience emotional and psychological turmoil and a sense of depersonalization. Well-designed, thoughtfully decorated reception areas contribute to reducing stress and increasing positive emotions for those who are in the most vulnerable state of mind when visiting such a facility for the first time.

The goals and objectives of the Child Advocacy Centre are consistent with the mandate of the Family

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

Court and Youth Justice Committee in that it is a proactive strategy that streamlines and connects community resources to support children and youth in the telling of their story in a child and youth friendly environment. It is collaborative, community based and child and youth centred.

5. Any features of the project you believe are pertinent to this application:

The Board of Directors of VCAPCC includes senior child abuse investigators, school counselors, youth and others committed to improving services for children and youth.

Project has received confirmed funding from provincial and federal Departments of Justice and Victoria Foundation.

Justice and health leaders will provide support and community leadership as members of the CAC's Steering Committee.

6. Will the project dovetail with other similar work? (i.e. in the Greater Victoria area or within your organization)

VCAPCC mission is the prevention and treatment of abuse in all forms. The Centre respects restorative interventions and outcomes including trauma informed practices and evidence based service delivery. VCAPCC works with many other organizations in the realization of its mission including the Victoria Sexual Assault Centre, TEAM VICTORIA, Federation of Community Social Services of BC, Pacific Centre Family Services Association.

This project provides trauma informed integrated services by multi-disciplinary teams that involve justice and mental health professionals including police, counsellors, forensic nurses, the Crown, etc.

7. Budget: to include clear accounting with potential line items and accompanying narrative, please include funding from other sources and feel free to attach a spreadsheet if needed:

$2,000 will be used to fund the purchase of furnishings and decorative materials for the reception/waiting areas of the Victoria Community Response Centre to create an atmosphere where clients and non-offending family members visiting the new centre feel comfortable and welcomed. Our design goals are to reduce stress and address clients' needs for relaxation and comfort while providing multi-disciplinary teams with a calm work environment.

In summary, the 2015/16 budget of $110,000 includes expenses for renovations (soundproofing, safety and confidential spaces), salaries, promotions, equipment (including gun locker, specialized video and recording equipment), training, program delivery (soft room supplies and toys), building (lease, janitorial, security), travel, evaluation and sustainability planning.

Funding for 2015-2016 is confirmed from BC Ministry of Justice ($ 40,000); Canada Justice ($65,000) and the Victoria Foundation ($14,000). These funds are complemented by in kind contributions by VCAPCC.

8. Other funding avenues/partners being explored:

An application for funding for $ 24,000 is under consideration from Vancouver Foundation for the 2016/17 fiscal year. There is also confirmed funding in 2016/17 from the BC and Canada Departments of Justice.

9. Catchment area served – target population:

Children, youth and families of the Greater Victoria region

10. Needs/problems to be addressed through the project work:

In 2008, the Public Health Agency of Canada reported that 1 out of 3 female children and 1 out of every 6 male children experience unwanted sexual acts. There were 85,440 substantiated cases of child abuse and another 18,000 unsubstantiated cases. These are only the cases reported. Substantiated maltreatment is projected at 14 children out of 1,000. This project addresses child abuse earlier than later to reduce its long term effects including youth delinquency, addictions, depression and mental illness.

This project addresses the recognized need by community and governments for non-institutional, child friendly venues that serve abused children/youth and improve trauma-informed community responses by removing barriers for victims in the telling of their story and for families to navigate two systems (justice and health) in a difficult time. The project seeks to influence:

- The routines, behaviors of health, police and mental health providers in delivery and location of services to abused children
- The flow of resources between institutions and community agencies
- The beliefs about service models that are in the best interest of the child empowering their voice.

11. Deliverables (goods and services to be provided):

- Successful operations of a Child Advocacy Centre in Victoria
- Creation of a welcoming, non-institutional, child friendly space where children/youth and their families feel safe and comfortable
- Development of best practices and collaboration with national and international child advocacy centres.

12. Timeframes (e.g. Intended start date of project, length of time from start of project to deliverables, one time project or on-going?)

The Centre will open in January 2016 after renovations of space. Sustainability planning and program evaluation will support long term funding for the Centre.

13. Evaluation framework (How will you know if your project has been a success and how will the Family Court Committee know?):

Evaluation of outcomes will be supported by VCAPCC's Nucleus data base. Outcomes are based upon trauma informed best practices and from other CAC's across Canada. This information is augmented by accreditation requirements that include surveys, assessments, pre and post questionnaires, etc.

Specific outcomes include:

- Engagement of police and health leadership
- Successful implementation of multi-disciplinary teams
- Improvements in best practices for services to abused children

VCAPCC will provide written and verbal reports to the Youth Justice Committee. Recognition of any contributions will be made at the CAC's Grand Opening, on websites and annual reports.

1. Date of Application: October 7, 2016

2. Name of organization / person(s) applying:

Communica: Dialogue and Resolution Services

Project Name: Youth Reconnection Dialogue Outreach and Promotion

3. Background of organization / person(s) or applicable history of related projects:

Established in 1974, Communica: Dialogue and Resolution Services Society (Formerly The South Island Dispute Resolution Centre) provides conflict management and communication courses and workshops, and dispute resolution services such as mediation, arbitration, parenting coordination, coaching, and group facilitation. Communica works with individuals, groups and organizations to explore and implement collaborative approaches.

The bulk of Communica's work consists of helping families in conflict to reach resolution through collaborative mediation dialogue. In addition to general subsidies available, Communica offers a suite of free programs including the Supported Family Mediation Services, Re-entry Mediation or the Youth Reconnection Dialogue program.

4. Clear goals and objectives of the project – clear indications of relevance to the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee mandate:

Background:

Youth who have been in the care of the government often find themselves isolated and without supports when they turn 19. They often seek out their families or extended family members with whom they may not have had healthy relationships. Even with the best intentions of everyone involved, these interactions can be devastatingly difficult; old conflicts resurface, familiar behaviour patterns are repeated and the youth experience high levels of stress, challenges to self-esteem and mental health.

Youth Reconnection Dialogue (YRD) has been developed by Communica to assist young adults leaving or out of government care to rebuild relationships with a parent, sibling, grand-parent or other family member. These safe, supported dialogues help to restore damaged relationships, resolve past conflicts and plan concrete steps for a positive, supported transition into adult life. With the help of two trained mediator/facilitators, everyone involved will be able to share their experiences, be fully heard and establish a plan to move forward productively. Follow-up is built into the reconnection dialogue process, with regular check-ins with the parties in the twelve months after the dialogue to ensure that agreements endure and assist in the resolution of new conflicts if they arise. Funded by the United Way of Greater Victoria for two years, the work of this innovative program is guided in part by a youth advisory committee.

In the few weeks since the launch of Youth Reconnection Dialogue, however, it has become clear that outreach will be a key challenge to the program's success. Separated from official supports, their files closed, youth who were formerly "in care" cannot be simply referred to the program. They must be reached through grassroots and informal networks; this requires a broad outreach plan including posters, face to face contacts, word of mouth and social media. The program's current funding does not support such outreach.

Goals and Objectives

Primary Goal: To reach out to and connect with young adults (18 to 24) to inform them about and involve them in the Youth Reconnection Dialogue program.

Objectives:

- Liaise with the YRD Youth Advisory Committee
- Connect with and make presentations to youth serving organizations, youth departments of agencies serving marginalized adults, youth branches of religious and political organizations, post-secondary youth groups
- Promote the Youth Reconnection Dialogue Program
- Participate in Communica's marketing plan to create targeted advertising and social media outreach materials as well as connect with traditional media to set up interview opportunities
- Assist interested youth to connect with program intake
- Assist Communica's client service team to process YRD intake applications
- Design and build an outreach system that can be continued into the future using existing Communica staff and volunteers

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

5. Any features of the project you believe are pertinent to this application: Will the project dovetail with other similar work? (ie. In the Greater Victoria area or within your organization).

Communica's Youth Reconnection Dialogue Program is unique in British Columbia; however it complements the work of many agencies providing service to young, marginalized adults. Communica Staff have also been working to build relationship with First Nations agencies such as South Island Wellness which provide similar services for young community members seeking to reconnect with communities (not necessarily family) in the nine South Island Nations. The Youth Reconnection Dialogue Outreach project will help to deepen such inter-agency relationships.

6. Budget: to include clear accounting with potential line items and accompanying narrative.

Item	Detail	Cost	Total Funder Cost
Revenue:
Communica In Kind	Volunteer Social media assistant (104 hrs @ $17/hr)	1768.00

Total		$ 20048.00	10,800.00

7. Other funding avenues/partners being explored:

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

Currently the United Way has provided funding for program development (completed) and delivery of service. However, outreach is not funded; the Youth Reconnection Dialogue Outreach Project is not creating an ongoing staff position, but carrying out a time-limited project.

8. Catchment area served – target population:

Youth 18-24 in the South Island Region. We are open to providing service to youth over 24 as well.

9. Needs/problems to be addressed through the project work:

This project will address the need for youth to know about and access the Youth Reconnection Dialogue project so they can repair and rebuild family relationships fractured by the experience of government care. The project will help youth to contact with and enroll in the YRD program.

10. Deliverables (goods and services to be provided):

Outreach activity plan

Promotional materials, PowerPoint and other presentation materials

On-going outreach system design

11. Timeframes (eg. Intended start date of project, length of time from start of project to deliverables, one time project or on-going?)

One time project

Start date: Nov 1, 2016 End Date: June 15 2017 (30 weeks not including Dec 15-Jan 7)

Deliverable deadlines:

- Outreach activity plan Nov. 10
- Promotional materials Nov. 15 (new materials created on an ongoing basis between Nov 15, 2016 and Feb. 1, 2017)
- On-going outreach system design May 30, 2017

12. Evaluation framework:

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

Evaluation of this project will be based on several criteria:

- Assessment by the Youth Advisory Committee (measured by evaluation questionnaires)
- Quantity of promotional events

1. Date of Application: October 12, 2016
2. Name of organization / person(s) applying: Cornerstone Youth Society, Darin Reimer (Executive Director)
3. Background of organization / person(s) or applicable history of related projects: Our organization has been in existence for the and run a drop in center for street kids and at risk youth since 2004. In those years we have seen over 30000 visits of vulnerable youth to Sanctuary Youth Center. In 2015 we counted 2140 youth visits with an average of 17 per day opening; we are open on the weekends on Friday-Sunday afternoons. On those days we provide a warm meal, showers, laundry and other services to minimize a young person's vulnerability.
4. Clear goals and objectives of the project – clear indications of relevance to the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee mandate: Our goal is to be able to open more hours per week as a Drop-In Center. We believe that in providing youth with a Center to call their own we see a noticeable decline in youth crime and delinquency.

In order to do so we need to increase our funding both to cover additional overhead costs but also to provide staffing. During our opening hours and even off days, we will allow youth to perform basic tasks in order to complete their required community service hours. Furthermore we work closely with MYST in their effort to minimize the risk to youth on the street. Our aim is to open longer hours with a paid staff present at all times in order to accommodate more youth and so that they are more likely to complete their community service hours. We also wish to open longer in order to provide youth a safe place to belong and to engage in positive relationships with our adult staff and volunteers.

5. Any features of the project you believe are pertinent to this application: Will the project dovetail with other similar work? (ie. In the Greater Victoria area or within your organization). We collaborate with Imagine Studio Café in helping youth obtain employment there. We have also arranged for youth who have or are aging out to be employed at Stubborn Chef. We collaborate with specific housing organizations in order to provide both youth and aging out young adults with a housing option.
6. Budget: to include clear accounting with potential line items and accompanying narrative.

2. Name of organization / person(s) applying: Balancing Our Minds (BOM): Youth Mental Health Summit
3. Background of organization / person(s) or applicable history of related projects: There are many organizations working on the issue of Child and Youth Mental Health. For several years a collaboration of groups has held a Balancing Our Minds Youth Mental Health Summit in Vancouver. This year, they have decided to decentralize to five smaller summits around the Province. One of those regions is Vancouver Island. As a result, a collaboration of all 4 local school districts, local agencies and non-profit organizations and individuals has agreed to work collaboratively to bring this summit to the Greater Victoria area.
4. Clear goals and objectives of the project – clear indications of relevance to the Family Court and Youth Justice Committee mandate:
The purpose of this summit is to bring youth together with service providers and those who work with youth having mental health challenges, to learn how to provide better services for youth and to empower youth and their parents to improve mental health outcomes for children. We know a significant number of youth with mental health challenges come into contact with the Criminal Justice system. We are requesting $3000 to supplement the core funding of $5000 from Balancing Our Minds. Funding from VFCYJC should be conditional on approval of core funding from BOM.
5. Any features of the project you believe are pertinent to this application: Will the project dovetail with other similar work? (ie. In the Greater Victoria area or within your organization). The bulk of the funding will come from the Balancing our Minds organization, but the funds will not cover incidentals such as meals and honoraria.

Balancing Our Minds: Youth Mental Health Summit

Application Form

Overview

With support from the Canucks for Kids Fund, BC Children's Hospital is seeking five (5) communities in British Columbia interested in planning and delivering a Balancing Our Minds Youth Summit in their community. A Balancing Our Minds Youth Summit is a one-day event focused on youth mental health, achieving the following goals:

1. Increase knowledge about mental health and substance use
2. Build awareness of available mental health tools, resources and services
3. Decrease stigma towards individuals experiencing mental health challenges

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

4. Generate ideas on how to promote mental health and wellness in your school community

Balancing Our Minds Youth Summits are based on the province-wide event Balancing Our Minds held at Roger's Arena from 2013-2016. The event was inspired by the idea that an important first step in changing how mental health is discussed and experienced in our school communities is getting together youth and educators from across the province to engage in thoughtful dialogue, education, and idea sharing on how to better promote mental health and wellness in our school communities.

With support from the Canucks for Kids Fund, BC Children's Hospital will support communities to host their own Balancing Our Minds Youth Summit events in the 2016/17 school year. Support includes financial (up to $5,000 per community) and planning resources from the Health Literacy Team at BC Children's Hospital. Specifically, a member from the Health Literacy Team at BC Children's Hospital will act as a primary coordinator for the event and will provide support with:

- organizing planning committee meetings
- developing the event theme and agenda
- connecting you with speakers
- speaker support
- connecting with provincial resources
- event details
- attendance at the event (schedule permitting)

The Health Literacy Team will also need the support of a planning committee in each community. The planning committee will use their connections and relationships in the community to help coordinate, plan, and execute the event. Planning committee members will be expected to regularly attend meetings, provide planning support, and volunteer their expertise. A planning committee comprised of community members is essential to the success of the event.

Criteria required to receive funding and planning support for a Balancing Our Minds youth summit are as follows:

- I. The primary focus of the event is mental health and substance use
- II. The primary audience of the event is high school aged youth
- III. Must be a single-day event (i.e. not a wellness week, series of events, etc.)
- IV. Must have a planning committee comprised of community members supporting the event
- V. Must have a support plan in place for the summit event and after the event is over
 - Difficult topics and conversations will arise; there must be a support plan in place to help students who may be triggered by these conversations during the event.

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

- Some students may feel more comfortable coming forward for support after attending the event. There must be a support plan in place to properly support students coming forward.
- VI. Presence of local and provincial resources at the event
- Increasing student awareness of available tools, resources, and services is a key component of Balancing Our Minds events. Connecting students with local and provincial resources and services is necessary in accomplishing this goal.
- VII. Youth speakers sharing their lived experience at the event must go through speaker support with a member of the Health Literacy Team

Applications will remain open until November 4th, 2016. Once the application period has concluded, the Health Literacy Team at BCCH will go through an application evaluation process in order to select the five (5) communities that will receive support to host a Balancing Our Minds Youth Summit in their communities. Evaluation will be based off of the information provided on this application form. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Paul Irving at paul.irving@cw.bc.ca. Thank you and we look forward to receiving your application.

2016 Annual Report

CRAT met 5 times during the year in The Esquimalt Nation Room, which is provided for free by Victoria City Hall. Our thanks to the City of Victoria for donating space for the meetings. We were able to provide light lunches to the meeting and to cover expenses for materials and presenters through an annual $1500 grant from the Capital Regional District. During the year, we continued to raise awareness of the issue of sexually exploited youth in the Capital Regional District and worked to identify gaps in service for these youth. Youth are now being groomed and stalked on the internet, which makes it more difficult to detect and help them. Gangs are increasing their presence.

At the January meeting, Bill McElroy was acclaimed Chair, and Melissa Hyland became Vice Chair. Bill presented the financial statements, showing a balance of about $1525. The District of Oak Bay keeps the financial records for CRAT: all funds given to CRAT are deposited with Oak Bay and they pay all expenses by cheque. Many thanks to staff at Oak Bay for providing this service.

We brought over Taking Care of Ourselves, Taking Care of Others (tco2) during the week of February 22-26. They made presentations to 14 groups with a total attendance of about 850. Special thanks to Mia Golden and Constable Jennifer Gibbs for coordinating the presentations. Tco2 will be returning to Victoria February 20-24, 2017. Although tco2 puts on their performances for free, we are required to pay their way over and back to Vancouver, and also provide accommodations and meals. The cost is usually around $1200.

On April 16, 2016, we went to Salt Spring Island to make a presentation about Sexually Exploited Youth. We coordinated our visit with Miranda de Jong from Children of the Street Society, which also coordinates tco2. Although the turn out was low, we had many influential attendees. As a result, tco2 came to Salt Spring this year to put on performances at 2 schools, and we have been invited back to speak to a service club in May, 2017. We are working on a public showing on Salt Spring Island of the RCMP film "I'm not for Sale" in early 2017.

On September 22, Bill was part of a panel discussion at an evening put together by Joel Conway, titled Men End Exploitation, about the role of men in ending sexual exploitation, held at UVIC.

2016 Victoria Family Court and Youth Justice Annual Report

We were unsuccessful in getting funding to put on another Human Trafficking/Sexual Exploitation workshop this year. However, we provided names of resources for the Inter-Cultural Association which was funded to provide a 2-day Train the Trainer workshop in December, where Bill made a presentation about sexually exploited youth.

VICTORIA FAMILY COURT AND YOUTH JUSTICE

YOUTH MATTERS COMMITTEE REPORT

December, 2016

The Youth Matters sub committee has not been meeting regularly as it has not been possible to recruit members to attend meetings. The FCYJC asked the YM committee to explore options for recreating an event to ensure that youth in the CRD are aware of services available to them. In order to achieve this the committee partnered with TeenFest. The objectives of TeenFest are to engage youth and share knowledge with them about services and opportunities across the region. While this includes businesses it also includes non profits and healthy activities. All promoters offer interactive engagement with the youth on the day and the event is non stigmatised so that youth gather information on critical as well as trivial matters.

TeenFest took place in Victoria on November 5th 2016 and was a free exhibition, for youth ages 12 to 18 years, and their families. It gave teens in the Greater Victoria Region the opportunity to connect with each other, their peers, their communities and community leaders. Highlights included a talent contest, performances, interactive sports and gaming activities, over 60 booths to see, learn and sample from and 4 different areas to explore – Life & Education, Cool Stuff, Fashion & Beauty and Health & Wellness.

The FCYJC supported the cost of 4 non profit agencies attending which was matched in sponsorship by TeenFest to enable another 4 agencies to attend free of charge.

Another significant area of work led by the Chair of the Youth Matters Committee was a review of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Calls to Action from the perspective of the CRD committee. An ad hoc committee was convened involving some members of the RCYJC and external stakeholders who met and reviewed the Calls to Action. A report was submitted to the Committee for consideration and the FCYJC has asked all Municipal Councils to send in informational updates on their action plans in response to the Commission.

The Youth Matters committee has been represented in the community on the Child and Youth Mental Health Action Team (Sooke-West Shore) and BC School Centred Mental Health Coalition.

Respectfully submitted,
Mitzi Dean
